

The Leiden Genetic Colloquia
Biomedical Research Seminars Division V
Program 2009-2010

Friday October 16, 1.30 pm

Ivan Dikic

Goethe University, Frankfurt, Germany

Targeting Ubiquitin Networks - from Structures to Functions

Organized in conjunction with the LUMC Frontier of Science Master's Course 'Signal Transduction'

Host: Peter ten Dijke

Tuesday, December 15

MiniSymposium: Genetics and Pathophysiology of Locomotor System Diseases

Graham Williams

Imperial College, London, UK

Critical Roles for Thyroid Hormone in Skeletal Development and Adult Bone Maintenance

Hosts: Ingrid Meuelenbelt and Eline Slagboom

Wednesday January 20

Surya Nauali

Toledo University, Ohio, USA

Mechanosensing and Ciliary Function in Blood Vessels and Polycystic Kidney Disease

Hosts: Rob Poelmann and Dorien Peters

Wednesday February 17

Technology Platform Presentation: Genomics

Paul Flicek

EMBL-EBI, Cambridge UK

The 1000 Genomes Project and Future Challenges for the Annotation of Human Variation

Hosts: Johan den Dunnen and Gertjan van Ommen

Wednesday March 17

MiniSymposium: Somatic Stem Cell Diversity

Organized in conjunction with the LUMC Frontier of Science Master's Course 'Stem Cells'

Pete Zammit King's College London, Nick Barker Hubrecht Laboratory Utrecht, Gerald de Haan, UMCG

Titles of Talks to follow

Hosts: Twan de Vries, Harald Mikkers and Christine Mummery

Wednesday April 21

MiniSymposium: Genetics and Psychiatric Disorders

Jonathan Flint

Wellcome Trust Centre for Human Genetics, Oxford, UK

Why Candidate Gene Studies of Psychiatric Disease Have Failed

Host: Martijn Breuning

Wednesday May 19

Steve Hoffman

Sanaria, MD, USA

Development of an Attenuated Malaria Sporozoite Vaccine

Hosts: Sahid Kahn and Chris Janse

Wednesday June 9

Titia de Lange

Rockefeller University, New York, USA

How Telomeres Protect Chromosome Ends

Hosts: Leon Mullenders and Niels de Wind

LGC Lectures at 4 p.m, unless indicated otherwise

Minisymposia and Technology Platform Presentations at 1.30 pm.

Location: one of the LUMC Lecture Halls

For information: R.H.Buitelaar@lumc.nl

